

THE CONVERSATIONALIST

This blog gives philosophers and intellectuals, in general, the platform to write on that one topic they seriously care about.

Call for Blog Submission

This is to inform you that the official blog of the Conversational School of Philosophy called “The Conversationalist” is now live. To this end, we invite submissions (of 1500 words max) that reflect some practical relevance – especially with regards to the African place.

Scope

The scope of The Conversationalist includes (but is not limited to) African philosophy, politics, religion, history, public affairs etc. Insofar the topic of discussion is related to Africa, the submission will be considered.

Style

Submissions should be conversational and argumentative.

How to Submit

Please send your submission to (blogs@cspafrika.org). Submissions will undergo a vetting process and will be published if considered appropriate and after necessary adjustments have been made.
